

Navigating your unit site

This short video will give you an overview of the basic features of your CloudDeakin unit site.

Visit the Navigating your unit site website for more information.

Additional Features

Many of the CloudDeakin unit sites within the Faculty of SEBE (Science Engineering and Built Environment) have some additional features. It is worth taking a moment to familiarise yourself with your CloudDeakin unit homepage.

Units with a weekly format

Most units within SEBE have a week by week structure, that is, units where you build on new content and topics each week.

Under the banner on the homepage there are clickable buttons linked to key modules, such as Unit

Information, Assessment Resources and Online Classrooms as shown in the image on the right.

The list of contents for the current week is shown below the announcements. You can move between weeks by clicking on 'Prev' or 'Next' arrows.

Units with a modular format

Some units just don't fit a weekly structure, such as project, placement or intensive units. In these cases, we use tiles for each of the key topic modules.

Clicking on the tile image will take you to a content list within that module, similar to the image shown in the progress bar section below.

The Progress bar

The progress bar helps you keep up to date with your unit content and is visible on the unit homepage in both weekly and modular formats.

In most cases, the progress bar will automatically advance as soon as you view a resource.

In some instances you may need to manually mark an item as viewed or complete a particular task or activity before the item will show as seen and the progress bar can advance.

Searching your unit site

Did you know you can search for resources on your unit site?

- Click on 'Content' on the navigation toolbar

- Then in the 'Search Topics' bar on the top left, type in your keyword or partial word
- Then click the magnifying glass to search.
